This past week, crumbling bricks/mortar were replaced on the Church, the Rectory and the garage. This was not part of the original project but the time was right to have all this fixed while the workers were here. The scaffolding has been removed as all work that required the use of it has been completed. Removal, piece by piece by rope and pulley, was a project in itself!

A REQUEST

You receive religious material in the mail which you have no need for. Please do not bring items to Church and leave them on the benches. This puts a burden on the staff to dispose of them and there is no way to know if they are blessed. According to Catholic web sites, blessed items should be buried or burned and the ashes returned to the ground. If items have not been blessed they can be disposed of like any other unwanted item or you can donate them (but not in our Church please) or recycle them. Holy cards, prayer leaflets and the like that come in the mail are simply pictures and can be thrown away (if that makes you uncomfortable then burn or bury them). You are certainly within your rights, both legally and morally, to dispose of the material as you never requested these items and they are not blessed. Recycling is a good way to go as the material will be transformed into usable items and have "another purpose". Thank you.
